Road Supervisor Burns had a force of men busy Thursday, reducing the grade and opening up the drains on the first block of Bandera Avenue.
This block, being the chief seat of traffic in Hondo, has been the cause of much trouble to our road-makers in times past. Mr. Burns thinks that with a reduction of the grade somewhat, a hard surfacing of the street and the keeping open of the drains at each end the troubles will all be removed.

HONDO'S BIG REVIVAL.

REV. S. C. DUNN
Pastor-Evangelist.

A union revival service began at the Methodist church last Sunday.
The preaching is being done by a man of national reputation as a revivalist, and the church is making an earnest, united effort for an old-fashioned manifestation of the spirit.
Read its invitation to the services.

The Hondo revival campaign is now in progress. The services are being conducted by the Rev. Mr.
Dunn of Brady, Texas. If you have not heard Dunn you have missed

Very little interest was manifested in the school trustee election held here last Saturday, as a total of only 37 votes were polled. The former members of the board whose terms had expired all having expressed a desire to retire, Messrs. S. G. Carter, J. R. Chancey and W. H. Muennink were unanimously elected to succeed E. R. Leinweber, Henry Meri-man and Jack M. Fusselman. J. H.
Heyen was re-elected county trustee from Precinct No. 1.

The eighth annual session of the Baptist Organized Bible Class will meet in San Antonio April 11, 12 and 13. The railroads have given reduced rates and an attendance of 1000 Baptists is expected.

The new pastor of the Hondo Lutheran church, Rev. G. E. Grueber, arrived here with his family from Gayhill, Texas. Rev. Grueber's inauguration will take place tomorrow, Sunday.

Miss Evelyn, and Master Montel Williamson spent last week-end with Capt. and Mrs. Eugene V. Behan at Camp Travis.

something that is indeed worth while.

Those who have heard Rev. Dunn will bear witness that he is a great preacher possessed of extraordinary gifts and ability. He is an eloquent and forceful speaker, and preaches the old time gospel of power and upholds Christ as the great central character of civilization. He tells the truth with gloves off. He has no time or place for a puny, pussy-foot kind of religion, and therefore he does not preach a gospel of mush. He hates sin and the devil with all his soul, of whatever character and form it may exist, but loves the sinner with a heart of tender sympathy. He is here in our town to help sinners quit their meanness and help them to Christ, who has power on earth to forgive sin. He is here to help set the church member right with his church and his God. Many are coming to the services and many have been blessed. Brother backslider and sinner friend, now is the time to get your wagon fixed, while the church is praying, and God's mercy is being extended. Come and hear Dunn, he will introduce you to Jesus Christ, the Great Physician who will heal your sin-sick soul and make you an active, live Christian. If you hear Dunn once you will not forget it; he will make you laugh, he will make you cry; he will make you mad;
he will make you glad. Come and hear Dunn every day at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m., at the Methodist church.

The people of Medina county are going about the tick eradication work in a vigorous manner, and it is probable by the time this paper reaches its readers every steer, cow and calf, and the father of the herd in Medina county will have received their first bath. Ticks are reported unusually numerous this season and in many neighborhoods the people did not await the arrival of the official opening day, April 1, to begin their eradication work. The people of the county believe in thoroughness in whatever they undertake, and it is a safe bet that when the dipping campaign now on is over, if ticks can be eradicated by this method, one of these stock pests will be a curiosity in the near future.

In a measure probably due to the vivid electrical storms that have visit-our flu epidemic seems to have about subsided. To whatever cause its subsidence may be attributed, it's a good riddance, and no one will be grieved if it never returns.

He says the North is still suffering from business depression, but indications seemed to point to an early return of normal conditions. He left Mr. Hartman in New York, where he is still laying in stock for his string of stores.

While this paper is being printed our young people are in their glory. The County Interscholastic Meet is in full swing, and the girls and boys are struggling in both mental and athletic contests. These annual contests have a value far beyond computation. It brings the young of the county—the men and women of the future—into close contact and many life-long friendships are formed; it arouses an ambition to excel that is bound to prove beneficial, not only to those taking part, but to those attending as spectators as well, and each re-occurrence of the annual meet is growing in interest and its date is watched for with increasing interest not only by the young people, but by our adult population. Of course, it is impossible to give any of the awards in this issue of the paper, but a full list of the different prizes given in the various features of the program, and the schools of the county taking part in will appear in our next issue.

THE RAIN.

All the joy of living is being taken out of the lives of the pessimists—it has rained again. Late in the evening Monday a gentle rain began falling and continued intermittently until nearly midnight, developing into a regular downpour at times, and when it ceased Mr. Jacob Reilly's rain guage showed a total precipitation of 1.75 inches. This, added to the 3.94 inch fall of last week, gives this section a total of 5.69 inches, which we believe any reasonable person will admit is a pretty good rain for a semi-arid country. A splendid season resulted from the rain, Old Mother Earth getting her best wetting since September 1921. The rain covered the greater part of the state, but we were more fortunate than those living in Middle and East Texas. While all of our streams were flooded they did not get out of their banks. These rains have transformed the country. Where but two weeks ago the country looked brown and sear, grass and weeds now are coming fast, corn is up to good stands and the farmers are busy and hopeful of a successful year. The pessimist is up against it just now, and so far as we know, has the sympathy of but few, if any.

COUNTY COURT.

The county court convened in regular term Monday but as both witnesses and jurors are extremely busy and as there were no cases on the docket that could not wait adjustment, but little business transacted. The following cases called, and in some manner disposed of:

Adams Co. vs. Juan Pena, et al. suit on note and to foreclose mortgage lien. Judgment for defendant.

Adams Co. vs. N. W. Duncan, on account. Judgment for plaintiff default.

G. W. Morris vs. E. Menchaca, on note and to foreclose chattel mortgage, was passed pending a settlement out of court.

Adams Co. vs. R. M. Dixon, suit on note and to foreclose chattel mortgage, case settled out of court, defendant to pay costs.

A number of other cases were led but for various reasons were continued.

But one case in the Probate court was disposed of, as follows: The Will and Testament of the late W. Goloff was admitted to probate. Mrs. Louisa Goloff appointed Administrator, and Joe Keller, L. M. Tol and Louis Mangold Sr. were appointed appraisers.

When it became apparent to court that their services would be required, Messrs. Frank Ba Ed Mann, Arnold Wurzbach, Britsch, Henry J. Schott, Earnest Balzen, Chris. Nietenhoefer, Al Biry, Ben Koch, August Bohm and Alfred Schweers and George H. mers, who had been sworn in as ors for the term, were discharged Monday afternoon.

AN ECHO FROM THE PAST.
Editor's Note: In looking over some old memoranda, we came across a torn newspaper clipping, yellowed from age, which we recall was given us some seven or eight years ago by the late Capt. Fred Metzger. In the multiplicity of duties incident to the life of a country editor, it was laid aside at the time and quite forgotten. We are at this belated hour complying with the Captain's request to reproduce it in our columns, feeling sure it will interest many of our readers. It was taken from a June, 1884 issue of the San Antonio Express, and is as follows: :
WANDERINGS IN WEST TEXAS.

Hans Mickle Again on a Missionary Tour.
Scattering Among the People the Glad Tidings of the Express Redemption.

New Fountain, Texas, June 14.—(Correspondence) Somebody, I don't recollect who and I don't care, said that man is but a bundle of habits, and this I firmly believe, and that as years roll on, the bundle continues to be more firmly bound until it becomes man's life itself, to break which endangers his peace of mind if not his life. "This is the way it occurs to me as I find myself again adrift in western Texas, "wandering from place to place which now is as natural as life. "Wanderings in West Texas" have been the most pleasant of my life, made so by the beautiful country through which I pass and the spontaneous hospitality that I meet on every hand. And thus it is that you find me again for The Express. Fully equipped with the proper documents and a liberal supply of Express missionary literature I went to the little church on the corner and smiled with the 'doctor' and took the poor man's carriage for the Sunset depot for the evening train for the west. Creeping along in the lonely suburbs at a four-mile pace, I heartily joined Captain Fred Rogers, to whose tender care I had resigned myself, in offering a benediction for the material and spiritual welfare of the Hon. Henry Pauly, the father of the four-mile-an-hour ordinance, sincerely hoping that his family venture may bring him at least two-fold happiness (twins every time) in apportionment to him of his share of the burdens of state. After passing the International crossing and consuming three-quarters of an hour in traveling three miles by railroad through the mesquite brush near San Antonio, Captain Fred gives a whoop and cries to the engineer to open the throttle and let her go.

Awandering

"Westward ho, the star of empire takes its course!" and Hans Mickle following close in its wake, fully bent on starrng tour.

Hondo City
was my first date, where I arrived at 9:30 p. m., and quartered at Hotel Edwards. Hondo City is just fifty miles west of San Antonio, and I take a special pride in writing the good things I can of it, because I was at its birth and christening. On October 1, 1882, myself, with several hundred of the "first citizens of San Antonio, always first at the free lunch stands and free rides—came out here to what was then a side track in the timber on the Sunset road. The company had laid out a plot of ground into town lots and offered them to the highest bidder. Bidders were there and lots were sold and Hondo City was born and christened in one day. The music of the hammer and saw began, and while it is not so loud as to disturb sleep day and night, still those implements have caused quite a town to grow. It is situated almost in the center of Medina county, and I believe that it is almost the universal conviction all over the county, that it will prove the future and permanent county seat. But the people are not presumptuous, and are willing to bide their time until they have the right of a majority to claim their belongings. At present we find all the attributes of a thriving country town, the business including Joseph Carle & Co., Humm and W. E. Johnson & Co., general merchants; B. R. Edwards and James Carroll, hotels; Drs. Mathews & Moer, drugs and medicines; Heilig, harness and saddles; H. C. Tevebaugh, blacksmith; Martin & Schryver, lumber, Wilkey & Troy, liquid consolation or consol liquidation; B. F. Hinson, livery and feed, etc., etc., which means lawyers, candidates, and so forth.

They Are Kicking,
not only the mules, as the only fun those animals have in life is to kick—viciously, maliciously and surreptitiously kick, but the kickers to whom I refer kick boldly, vigorously and manfully kick and declare their intention to continue the exercise until they either kick sufficient sense and competency into the postal authorities on the Sunset road or the San Antonio postoffice, or kick them out of office altogether. The kickers to whom I refer are the people of Hondo City, and as far as I can learn, also those all along the line (gentlemen only) who are so unfortunate as to be obliged to use the mails. They ask the pertinent question why a letter written and mailed here at night and arriving in San Antonio at 6:40 a. m., cannot be delivered to the person for whom it is intended on the same day, or at least a week afterwards so as to be answered before the interested party forgets all about it. I know from personal experience that there is good ground for complaint in that direction. I know of many instances where letters have arrived at said office, receiving the arriving stamp, but not delivered till the next day if then. The complaint is general, loud and energetic and I am acting under request in making public this urgent demand for a more efficient service, that is to say, if the postal department is intended as a public service, if not, it should be labeled: "An asylum for busted, lazy and incompetent politicians and their forty-second cousins, who have not sufficient ability and energy to earn a living anywhere else," then we would know what not to expect, giving them our sympathy and smothering them under the large and heavy mantle of our charity.

The Crops
along the Sunset route, for this distance at least, are exceptionally good. The corn is generally in roasting ears and the small grain is harvested, yielding to the husbandman an abundant reward for his labor and care. It is many years since there has been a better crop in this section of the country. Grass is fine and, as yet, water plenty. Cotton looks well, but could stand a light shower just to loosen up the ground a little. The cultivation of cotton increases from year to year, and in a few years the fleecy staple will whiten the broad prairies that now feed only the long-horned natives of the soil. Only a few years ago, "before the railroad," when Calamity Jim and Hans Mickle plodded their lonely way over these wide stretches, who would have thought these seeming dry wastes were susceptible of so much good, and sometimes it would startle even myself, when I would, in an unguarded moment, give publicity to vague dreamings of the future possibilities of Western Texas. I had an abiding faith in it, but I did not expect to see its realization so soon. But here we now find ourselves at the commencement of the beginning of one of the healthiest and most prosperous sections of our union. But I could not tarry in the future capital of Medina county forever, especially after meeting our old and true friend, Mr. Fred Metzger, of New Fountain. Calamity Jim and Hans Mickle had partaken of his good cheer in the days of my "old pard's" glory, and in deference to his memory could not resist the invitation to go over and lodge with him for the night. He promises to put me on the back of a "true and noble charger" and send me hence in the morning to the Sabinal canon. So here I am in one of the most thrifty and prosperous farming communities of West Texas, scribbling away under the inspiration of a beautiful surrounding. Mr. Metzger is largely engaged in farming and has a mill, which he proposes to move to Hondo City as soon as he can sink a suitable well in order to get water for his engine.

Hans Mickle.

When one has suffered tortures from a bad back and found relief from the aches and pains, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following neighborly advice comes from a Hondo resident.
B. H. Robinson, carpenter, says: "I was troubled with my kidneys. I had to get up three or four times at night to pass the kidney secretions which were scalding and highly colored. I had dizzy spells and black specks appeared before my eyes. My head ached and I had sharp pains through my kidneys. A friend told me of Doan's Kidney Pills and one box of Doan's regulated my kidneys and my back never aches now."

THE K. K. K. WILL FALL OF ITS OWN WEIGHT.

Having been asked by a number of my constituents and friends as to my position on the question of the Ku Klux Klan, I feel it my duty, not to ride the fence, but as a lawyer who has taken an oath to support the Constitution of the State of Texas, and one of the law makers of the grand old State of Texas, to make myself clear, as I did in the regular session of the 37th Legislature, when I was joint author with Mr. Patman of Cass County in introducing a resolution to investigate the secret organization known as the White Caps with the KKK's. That is I am against their theory and method of law enforcement.

The Ku Klux Klan organizes and does its work in secret, under the pretence of assisting in the enforcement of our laws, yet when they are opposed by the duly constituted authorities under these laws—the very laws, if you please, that forbids them to put robes on their bodies and masks on their faces and march in groups through the streets of a peaceful little village or town—they spare nothing that would prevent them from maintaining the secrecy which is in itself a crime. That anarchistic disposition that allows them to take the law into their own hands, administering punishment according to their ideas and in degrees to suit their whim, is enough to condemn any organization, no matter of whom it is composed. When their own secret welfare demands, they do not hesitate to violate a moral and civil law that has been regarded by every civilized people. Yet they claim to be law-abiding and 100 per cent American. "Oh! Consistency, thou art a jewel."

One of two things must be conceded: The Ku Klux Klan is above the law or it is against the law. If it is above the law, then all our municipal, State and National organized governments are useless and of no avail. Our civilization, which is a result of our system of government, is a failure. If it is above the law, it must be considered as a sort of self-constituted hierarchy accountable to no one. All history is replete with disastrous consequences of such authority. If it is against the law, then a continuous conflict must exist until one or the other is destroyed. The two cannot exist together, any more than an orthodox Mohammedan could allow a Christian to enjoy the hospitality of his home. All that we are as a nation, all that we have accomplished as citizens of that nation, is the result of our present form of government with its duly constituted and elected authorities, and all we may expect in the future will depend on its perpetuation.

To tolerate now will be to endure later. Our constituted authorities can not and will not tolerate competition in meting out punishment for violations of law.

We cannot license two systems; we cannot serve two masters. Dire consequences forbode our future if we allow an empire to spring up and wind its tendrils about the supporting branches of a republic. There are only two ways to safely bring about reforms for the good of humanity: Moral persuasion based on Christianity, and enforcement of law and order through the duly constituted authorities.

Not until the sun is darkened and the moon and stars refuse to shine, can we allow any secret organization usurp, in whole or in part, our governmental authority. Least of all can we tolerate one that places a robe on its body and a mask on its face, and seeks the shadow of darkness to enforce its idea of punishment contrary to those placed in authority, by the free choice of a free people. Grover C. Morris, Representative 77th District of Texas.

FLETCHERIZED FARM FACTS

By Fletcher Davis.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CULTIVATION.

By Fletcher Davis.

One of the big arts of farming is the cultivation of the crops. Upon the proper cultivation of the growing crops depends much the production of that crop, and therewith the success or failure of the farmer.

Of course, the best part of a crop's cultivation oftentimes lies in the preparation of the soil for the crop in advance of the seed time. A well prepared seed bed is a prerequisite of the best cultivation. Given a good seed bed to begin with, succeeding cultivations need to be only frequent enough to keep down weed growth, avoid the formation of hard crusts after rainfall and conserve the moisture in the soil. This is, of course, presuming normal weather conditions.

If, however, the seed bed has been poorly prepared or if the soil is of such a nature as to congeal and become hard and compact after the rains, the first cultivation, especially of corn, should be deep and thorough. The idea is to put the soil all around the plants in as good a state of tilth as possible before the roots thereof have spread sufficiently to be seriously injured by the plow. After crops have made any considerable root spread, anything but shallow cultivation is attended by much danger to the growing crop. Lack of knowledge of this very elemental fact cost the writer dearly in his younger days, for defiance of it coupled with a few succeeding days of dry weather following a deep final cultivation of a corn crop, all but ruined the crop.

Purpose of Cultivation.

The purposes of cultivation may be summarized as follows:

First, the maintenance of a good state of tilth.

Second, avoiding the formation of surface crusts.

Third, conserving the moisture with a soil mulch.

Fourth, keeping down the growth of weeds.

The maintenance of a good state of tilth will nearly always assure the other three conditions that are to be so much desired and which, in the experience of all successful cultivators of the soil, have been found essential to the best production of crops.

A soil is in the best condition of tilth when it is in that condition of open texture that best permits the spread of the tiny roots of the plant through it in their search for moisture and plant food. It is to establish this condition that we plow and harrow our seed beds in preparation of our soil for the crop and that we cultivate the crop afterward. To establish and maintain this, the soil must be stirred while in the proper condition of moisture—not so soon after the rains as to be too wet or so long after as to have allowed the soil to become dried and baked. This calls for rapid work while conditions are right, hence the economy of implements that will do the work in the most thorough manner in the least time.

Cultivation Should not be Neglected.

If cultivation is neglected too long a hard surface crust forms through the pores of which the soil moisture evaporates at a rapid rate, to the great detriment of crops. The longer this condition continues, the deeper forms the crust through which no roots of the plants can penetrate, thus circumscribing their feeding zone, and the bigger will be the clods in which the soil will break up when plowed, thus rendering it the more difficult to pulverize and form the surface mulch of loose soil so essential to the conservation of the moisture in dry periods.

Water is the limiting factor in crop production over most of the farming area of the habitable globe. This is especially true of the greater part of Texas. Therefore, methods of cultivation that will best look to the formation after rains and the maintenance during dry weather of such a soil mulch as will best minimize evaporation from the surface of the soil will have the careful attention of the successful husbandman. Thereon depends much the yield of his crops and his income. On his income depends the welfare and comfort of himself and his family.

How Plants Consume Mineral Elements.

All plants of whatever nature consume certain mineral elements of the soil, known as plant foods, in building up their structure. In order to secure these foods the mineral elements are dissolved in the soil water and this food-freighted water is absorbed by the roots of the plants and becomes the sap of the plant, circulating to all parts of the plant, undergoing wonderful chemical changes and nourishing and building the plant. This mysterious chemical process complete, the water is given off

SOMEHOW OR OTHER.

Life is a burden to everyone's shoulder;

None may escape its troubles and cares;

Miss it in youth and 'twill come when you're older,

And fit us as close as the garments we wear.

Sorrow comes into our homes uninvited,

Robbing our hearts of its treasures of song;

Lovers grow cold and our friendships are slighted,

Yet somehow or other we worry along.

'Midst the sweet blossoms that smile on our faces

From the rank weeds that would poison and blight,

And e'en in the midst of earth's beautiful places

There is always something that isn't just right.

Yet oft from the rock we may pick a gay flower,

And drink from a spring in a desolate waste.

They come to the heart as a heavenly dower,

And naught is so sweet to the eye or the taste.

Everyday toil is an everyday blessing,

Though poverty's cottage and crust we may share;

Weak is the back on which burdens are pressing,

But stout is the heart that is strengthened by prayer.

Somehow or other the pathway grows brighter

Just when we mourned there was none to befriend;

Hope in the heart makes the burden seem lighter,

And somehow or other we get to the end.

The devil never tempted a man whom he found judiciously employed.—H. C. Spurgeon.

The Galveston-Dallas News thinks that "On the issue of the hour Mr. Neff defiantly reaffirms his allegiance to the multiplication table." We wonder some times if he is right certain about that!

The press dispatches have Cullen F. Thomas, aspirant for the United States Senatorship from Texas, saying the Ku Klux Klan must either reform itself or be destroyed. Has anyone ever heard of a rotten egg "reforming" or a pole cat changing its brand of perfume? Cullen will have to "cut and come again." Culberson has already said: "I have no affiliation directly or indirectly with this organization and I am unqualifiedly opposed to its operations. If not curbed, it will usurp the functions of the State and be destructive of government itself. It will indeed overthrow our Anglo-Saxon civilization in its relation to government. Steps should be taken, therefore, at once to arrest its progress and finally to destroy it."

Up Denison way the other day the powers that be, who had the arranging of the stage setting for the spectacular appearance of a bunch of Ku Klux in a one-act farce of disturbing public worship, forgot to take one sturdy old Deacon, Dr. W. L. Smith by name, into their confidence. As a consequence, when some "44 masked men, cowards, afraid to face the world unmasked," to quote another Deacon's description of them, invaded the First Baptist Church there Sunday night, Deacon Smith rose up and snatched the dunce-cap from one of the Klansmen's head, disclosing the face of a Denison business man. The Deacon got slapped in the face for his pains, and a free for all fight was no doubt averted only by the exit of the shirt-tail bunch. This should serve as a warning to church officials to see that only claquers man the seats the next time they arrange for a night-shirt vaudeville in the aisles of their sanctuary.

in invisible vapor by the process of transpiration through the pores of the plant's leaves.

As weeds grow in our crops they rob them of just so much plant food and enormous quantities of water. The water is lost to us forever and before the plant foods so filched from our crops can return to the soil and become again available for their use the weeds must decay and the elements again mix with the soil. Before this process of nature is complete the present crop will have made or failed. Hence, the importance of the early and complete destruction of these crop robbers—the weeds—by systematic and thorough cultivation at the right time. The right time is before the weeds have made any considerable growth.—Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News, April 4.

"The most important question of internal administration before the American people today is whether or not this onward sweep of Federal control over the details of their local affairs shall go on. The part of that question which we are considering today is whether it is advisable to permit it to include our education. Shall we accept the doctrine that we are destined to become a great continental democracy, governed from Washington, or shall we try to preserve the local autonomy in communities and States which is necessary to the preservation of our liberties? If we accept the doctrine that it is well to become a continental democracy, there is no need of further discussion, and State governments may as well be abandoned. If we do not accept that doctrine, but stand up against the present tendency, we should keep our State governments in substance. Above all, we should keep our education out of Federal bureaucratic control."—President David Kinley, University of Illinois.

A writer in Harper's Weekly thus crystallizes the thought that is gradually taking form in the minds of most conservative people: "The practical judge of whether a law is right or wrong is the general community to which the law applies. If that community will not back up the enforcement of the law, it will not be enforced. It is yet to be demonstrated how far the Volstead law, as it stands, is enforceable. If its fruits do not please a majority of the people who live under it, it may have to be modified so that it will stand for something that is near enough to the popular judgment of what is right to win popular support. There is a great deal of good in the present prohibition movement. It put the saloons out of business. It checked the brewers and distillers in their over-strenuous efforts to sell their products. It accomplished benefits which probably could not have been accomplished except by the kind of clean sweep that the amendment was. But it was necessarily a rough job—an experiment to be tried out in practice. If its rules need modification, they may get it or they may not, but if not, they may be practically modified in enforcement." It will come to this or worse. A nation of boot-leggers, such as we are rapidly becoming—from the White House on the hill to the still house by the mill—is unthinkable. Such a nation can not endure.

PRISONERS UNDER A REPEALED LAW.

It would do no harm for the House Judiciary Committee to report the resolution calling on President Harding to reconsider the cases of the 113 political prisoners still serving heavy sentences for violations of the Espionage Act. It would do no harm for the House to pass the resolution. Having pardoned Eugene Debs and a number of others as a Christmas gesture, Mr. Harding has seemed to be inclined to forget the rest. He should be reminded that the Espionage Act has been repealed, that the purpose for which it was enacted has been served and that political offenders of other countries are at liberty.

He should be reminded also that war-time and peace-time justice are two very different things, and that the remaining 113 were sentenced when feeling ran high among Judges and juries as well as among ordinary citizens. A war leads inevitably to patriotic excesses, a fact no better illustrated anywhere than by the excessive penalties imposed for disloyalty.

It was supposed that a general amnesty might follow the signing of the

UPPER HONDO NOTES.

This country has had about six inches of rain. The people are wearing smiles and the country looks fine in general.

The oats are in first class shape, only that they are a little late on account of the recent drought.

As a result of a visit by Mr. Murray, the county clerk inspector, we were given two locations for vats, the county furnishing cement for half of each vat. One vat is located on the Aug. Mangold property while the other is on the partition fence of the Rieber and Heyen-Schuehle pastures. They are practically complete and will be ready for dipping service by the 12th and 13th, our dipping dates.

The road work in our precinct has been pushed along rapidly and splendid work has been done.

There will be ample proof now for the fault finder of the bond issue that bond money has been or will be spent in vain.

Too much praise can not be given our foreman, P. C. Jagge, who has the interest of the county at heart and who tries to do the best thing in the best way.

Some time ago C. M. Merritt made us a talk on the Farm Bureau. Mr. Merritt is very enthusiastic about the Bureau's activities and his efforts here were amply repaid by so many of the farmers joining the oat organization. This however, will not be binding unless enough oat acreage has been subscribed for by April 1st, which the writer has not yet learned.

A committee has been soliciting all the farmers and as a result have received about fifteen signers.

The members of this organization will join the Farm Bureau and hope to organize a local.

Five boys of the Rothe school have joined the pig club. The people are taking an interest in the hog question and undoubtedly will be represented in the fair this fall. The boys of the club are: Edgar and Rudy Sprott, Oswald Poerner, Willie Scheile and James Ross.

A HEAP TOO MUCH WATER.

Water Bound, Ark.,
April 1, 1922.

Dear Editor:—
While water-bound in Arkansas, I want to write a few good words for Texas and Medina county.

I know Medina county has drouths and at times this is very disagreeable, but for the past three months Mr. Frix and I have been traveling in the Southern states and in all my life together I have never seen so much water and so much farm land under water.

While in the Mississippi bottoms from Memphis south we traveled for miles on the Pershing Highway where we could see nothing but water on either side. The water lacked only about 10 inches of being over the highway and in the next few days the same highway was five feet under water. However, by then we were in Little Rock, Ark., again.

We then decided Texas was good enough for us and wanted to start home but found ourselves cut off even from Texas by water.

Our first attempt to get home was through Oklahoma, but failed on account of high water in the Arkansas River; the second attempt was through Louisiana, but the Washata and Little Missouri rivers stopped us there, so we had to ship our car to Texarkana and from there start home. If we ever get to San Antonio I think I will be willing to spend the rest of my life in southwest Texas, for a country with plenty of rainfall is not everything—especially to someone who was raised on dry land.

Best regards to Hondo and I trust you have had some of the recent rains.

Mrs. Marguerite (Wanshaff) Frix.

GROVER C. MORRIS FOR RE-ELECTION.

Elsewhere will be found a political advertisement by Hon. Grover C. Morris, Representative from this district. Mr. Morris went to the Legislature to fill an unexpired term and has served only one full elective term. He feels that he is entitled to two full terms. Mr. Morris has been particularly fortunate in his committee assignments in the Legislature, holding positions of influence on some of the most important committees and being in close touch with the administration.

Attention is also directed to Mr. Morris' signed communication printed elsewhere in this paper. In this statement he makes himself very clear as standing for a legal and orderly enforcement of law by the legally constituted authorities rather than the mob. Of course, as an honest man who respects the oath he took when the state licensed him to practice his profession as well as a law-abiding citizen, any other position on his part would be unthinkable. But his boldness in declaring his position is most commendable, especially in view of the fact that his home town of Devine is accredited with having, among the very business or professional men among whom he must move every day, a Ku Klux organization.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

The Quinine Tonic That Does Not Affect the Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE, 30c.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

From The Devine News.

Mr. F. T. Ramsey Starts Nursery at Devine.

Mr. F. T. Ramsey, the well known nurseryman of Austin, and E. J. Koenig of San Antonio, his agent, were here one day the past week and closed a deal with Mr. J. C. Etheridge for B. Weeks; 45.9 acres Survey No. 494 3-4, W. A. Cole. Consideration $4,000.00. Mr. Etheridge will also plant twenty acres to fruits and berries, having already demonstrated that berries will do well on this class of sandy land, two miles east of Devine.

It has long been argued that the sandy lands about Devine will some day be recognized as the best fruit and berry lands in this part of the state. While riding down the Artesian Belt some years ago, with an old man who had traveled extensively in California, he said, "Some day you will see this section covered with vines and grapes and berries. It is like the California berry and grape lands."

The fact that Mr. Ramsey, who knows every part of Texas, and is the largest nurseryman in Texas, has chosen a large plot of this land for a nursery and demonstration orchard, means that this whole section may be transformed in a few years to one of the most prosperous sections in the state.

The work is to begin as soon as the stock arrives. Mr. Etheridge informs us. This is the best piece of news we have had in several months, we are quite sure.

Stock Dipping Begins in Earnest.

Our people, different from many elsewhere, have viewed the stock dipping as a necessity, and the sooner complied with the better, and so they have gone about the dipping in a way that will soon insure the lifting of the quarantine. It is claimed by the County Inspector that cows can be milked right on with safety, only taking care to wash off the udder; and that cattle can be killed for meat without danger, but an animal intended for butchering, I should not think, would be necessary to dip on the day it is killed. By dipping regularly every 18 days, through the summer months, we will have the ticks eradicated by fall. Mr. Murray says, but if we neglect or fail, it may mean another year of quarantine. No impossibilities are required; and cows too heavy with calf, or too poor to stand it, could be deferred for a few days, and dipped the required number of times later. Let's all consider the matter as a wise move, to free our stuff from ticks, lice, etc., and get through with it as quickly as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Melton spent a few days in Laredo. They were very much amused at our figures of 600,000 cars of onions, or the 300,000 as half crop. It should have been 3,000 cars, the half of 6,000 at first expected. These 0's roll down mighty easy, when our type-setting man gets in a hurry, don't yer know?

Our school is getting ready for the county meet at Hondo, Friday and Saturday of this week, and no doubt a number will go over from our town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Brown took their little son Randolph to a sanitarium in San Antonio Thursday, where he was successfully operated upon for appendicitis, though the appendix had burst, and a few hours longer would have been too late, the doctor said.

SELF-CONFIDENCE.

From The Huajillo Leaf.

A human being is made up of many essential qualities, and one of the most important of these is self-confidence. There is nothing like having faith or confidence in yourself, and if you have not this quality you can not expect other people to have it for you. Many a great deed has been left undone because its originator lacked self-confidence. You say that you may be wrong in your ideas; maybe you are, but you can surely say and believe that you are right until someone proves that you are wrong, and you will be none the less better off for the experience. No one knows whether they are right or not, but with the help of a little self-confidence it won't take long to find out. If you are wrong, you certainly would not want to continue being wrong, but start the new and right way. Invent your machine and back it up with a little faith and see if it will work or not; if it doesn't, try another one, but don't lose confidence in your ability.

McKellar—"But how are you going to make the germs exercise?"—Ex.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS FAIR DATES

From Extension Service Farm News.

W. H. Darrow, district agent of the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas, for the southwestern section of Texas, advises that twenty-five fairs were reported at the recent meeting of the Southwestern District Fair Association held at San Antonio.

The meeting was called by Paul Holecamp, secretary of the Kendall County Fair Association, Boerne, Texas, for the purpose of discussing matters of common interest to all County Fairs in the southwest and to take concerted action on certain paramount questions. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, thereby affecting a permanent organization.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Paul Holecamp, Boerne, Directors, W. M. Wurzbach, San Antonio; J. H. Stoltzfus, Victoria; G. F. Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer, San Antonio.

Probably the most important piece of work done at this meeting was the adoption of circuit dates for the fairs. Most of these dates were definitely accepted by the local representatives present, but some of them are tentative and are subject to change. It is believed that dates adopted will be adhered to very closely. The dates agreed upon are as follows: Bertram, August 2, 3 and 4; Lampasas, August 8, 9, 10 and 11; San Saba, August 15, 16, 17 and 18; J. E. Bell, Chairman; Brady, August 21 and 22; Fredericksburg, August 23, 24 and 25; A. Gold, Chairman; Kerrville, August 29, 30 and 31; Ally Beitel, Chairman; Boerne, September 1, 2 and 3; Paul Holecamp, Chairman; Bandera, September 6, 7 and 8; Pleasanton, September 9, 10 and 11; F. B. Ricks, Chairman; Sabinal, September 12 and 13; N. E. Scudder, Chairman; Hondo, September 14, 15 and 16; C. M. Merritt, Chairman; Pearsall, September 18, 19 and 20; J. F. Metcalf, Chairman; Lockhart, September 20, 21 and 22; Nixon, September 20, 21 and 22; San Marcos, September 27, 28, 29 and 30; Alice, September 27, 28, 29 and 30; I. T. Wright, Chairman; San Antonio, September 28, 29, 30 and October 1; Mr. Taylor, Chairman; Gonzales, September 27 and 28; G. A. Knabla; Seguin, October 3, 4, 5 and 6; G. J. Kemper, Chairman; Kenedy, October 11, 12, 13 and 14; J. H. Burleson, Chairman; Beeville, October 17, 18, 19 and 20; W. R. March, Chairman; Floresville, October 25, 26 and 27; C. W. Lehmberg, Chairman; Yoakum, November 1, 2, 3 and 4; F. N. Clifford, Chairman; Victoria, November 8, 9, 10 and 11; J. H. Stoltzfus, Chairman; Cuero, November 9, 10 and 11; O. C. Nau, Chairman.

Next to the arrangement for circuit of fairs, probably the next most important thing done from an Extension Service standpoint was the recommendation made by the organization committee that A. & M. College specialists work out a complete classification of county fair exhibits, based on the Dallas Fair classification, but adapted to county fair conditions. This recommendation was unanimously adopted by the delegates present with the request that this material be put in bulletin form and sent to each fair secretary within a short time. About thirty-five fairs are included in this association, delegates from twenty-five being present.
